

management revue

AUTHORS GUIDELINES (1)

Manuscripts for Management Revue are either

1. initiated by a call for papers by the guest editor(s) of the respective special symposium issues or
2. may be sent to Management Revue independent of any special symposium theme as ordinary submissions. Manuscripts are considered for publication with the understanding that their contents and contributions have not been published and are not under consideration for publication elsewhere (with limited exceptions for overview articles from leaders in the field of the special symposium issue).

Manuscripts are subject to a double-blind review process coordinated by either a guest editor if intended for a special symposium issue or by an editor of Management Revue if submitted independent of special themes. In addition to the (guest) editor the manuscript will be considered by at least two reviewers; particularly inappropriate submissions may be returned without formal review.

Manuscript length should not exceed 8000 words and the norm should be 30 pages in double spaced type with margins of about 3 cm (1 inch) on each side of the page.

Manuscripts should be prepared in accordance with the format guidelines shown below.

Manuscripts should be accompanied by biographies of no more than 50 words on each author's details and current interests, an abstract of the article and a list of about four key words or descriptors.

Manuscripts need to be submitted to Management Revue electronically (submissions@management-revue.org), formatted in two ways: as an acrobat reader file (pdf) and as a Word file. Queries about the manuscript can be made to the above electronic mail address. Editorial decisions will also be communicated to the author via electronic mail.
Manuscript format

The manuscript should conform to the following requirements:
Use 12-point type (Times new roman or equivalent) double-spaced (including references, endnotes, appendixes, tables, and figures). The title page is page 1. Under the title of your work, list authors' names, affiliations, and complete addresses including e-mail. Page 2 shows the title of your article and the abstract (not your personal name or address). Your abstract should be about 100 words long. Group any endnotes, references, appendixes, tables, and figures at the end of your manuscript. Use sequential page numbering throughout. Submit one manuscript with title page and one manuscript without (anonymous).

AUTHORS GUIDELINES (2)

For in-text citations, include the authors' names and the year of publication in parentheses, e.g. (Williamson 1975, 1985, 1996; Granovetter 1985; Cohen/Levinthal 1990).

Two or more publications by one author in the same year should have "a," "b," etc., added after the year. For direct quotation, give pages after the year, e.g. (Coleman 1988: 98). If a publication has three or more authors use "et al.", e.g. (Nooteboom et al. 1997). The list of references at the end of the manuscript should include only cited publications. List references alphabetically by the last name of the first author. If there is no personal author use the corporate author, e.g. Wall Street Journal. Order publications by an identical author by year, listing the earliest first.

Book references follow this form:

Authors' last names, initials, year, title, city, name of publisher.

Examples:

Burt, R.S. (1992): Structural holes: The social structure of competition. Cambridge, MA: Harvard University Press.

Buckley, P.J./Casson, M. (1976): The Future of the multinational enterprise. London: Macmillan.

Periodical references follow this form: Authors' last names, initials, year, title, name of periodical, volume number (and issue number, if needed), page numbers. Examples:

Henisz, W.J./Delios, A. (2001): Uncertainty, imitation, and plant location: Japanese multinational corporations, 1990-1996. In: Administrative Science Quarterly, 46: 443-475.

Roberts, P.W./Greenwood, R. (1997): Integrating transaction cost and institutional theories: Toward a constrained-efficiency framework for understanding organizational design adoption. In: Academy of Management Review, 22(2): 346-373.

Chapters in books follow this form:

Authors' last names, initials, year, title of chapter, editors' initials and last names, title of book, city, name of publisher, page numbers. Examples:

Scott, W.R./Meyer, J.W. (1991): The organization of societal sectors: Propositions and early evidence. In: W.W. Powell/P.J. DiMaggio (Eds.), The new institutionalism in organizational analysis. Chicago: University of Chicago Press: 108-140.

Unpublished papers follow this form:

Menard, C. (2002): The economics of hybrid organizations. Paper presented at the annual meeting of the International Society for New Institutional Economics, Cambridge, MA.